MOZAMBIQUE FLASH-NOTE Caveat emptor

Caveat emptor is Latin for "Let the buyer beware". Generally, caveat emptor is the contract law principle that controls the sale of real property after the date of closing, but may also apply to sales of other goods. The phrase caveat emptor and its use as a disclaimer of warranties arise from the fact that buyers typically have less information about the good or service they are purchasing, while the seller has more information. The quality of this situation is known as 'information asymmetry'.

What is Caveat Emptor? The maxim Caveat Emptor means let the buyer beware. In other words, the buyer must take care of his own interest while purchasing the goods. Buyer in a contract of sale of specific goods will purchase them at his own risk with regard to the quality or fitness of the goods except in case of fraud or where a condition to that effect is laid down in the contract itself.
