Staff and line are names given to different types of functions in organizations. A "line function" is one that directly advances an organization in its core work. This always includes production and sales, and sometimes also marketing. A "staff function" supports the organization with specialized advisory and support functions.

A store of value is the function of an asset that can be saved, retrieved and exchanged at a later time, and be predictably useful when retrieved. [citation needed] More generally, a store of value is anything that retains purchasing power into the future. The most common store of value in modern times has been money, currency, or a commodity like a precious metal or financial capital.
