Cooping was a form of electoral fraud in the United States during the 19th century by which unwilling participants were forced to vote, often several times over, for a particular candidate in an election. Generally these innocent bystanders would be grabbed off the street by so-called 'cooping gangs' or 'election gangs' working on the payroll of a political candidate, and they would be kept in ...

“What scares me most is that I may be working for the Jew’s big Agenda and not even know it. That is a profound statement, INCOG, and one that all should ponder, as any one of us could very easily fit into that category. Jews are very subtle, almost supernaturally so, and they have a keen knack for divining Aryan sensibilities.
